How this edition is organised

Part A profiles every state and union territory: whether it publishes its own question bank, the test format, the languages offered, its speed schedule and how many questions in this database apply there. Part B is the conflict register, which lists the handful of questions where states key different answers. Part C is the full master bank, and every question carries a line showing which states' official material it was located in.

Three states publish an extractable bank, and all three were extracted in full. Everywhere else the test is served from the Sarathi platform, which draws on a shared national core chaptered into Rules, Mandatory, Cautionary and Informatory. The opening items of the Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh and Bihar Sarathi reports are identical to one another in both question order and answer key, which is direct evidence that the core is common. That is why the whole master bank is useful preparation in a state that publishes nothing of its own.

Sources

- Transport Department, Government of NCT of Delhi - Question Bank for Computer Learner License Test. 212 items, three options each.
- Motor Vehicle Department, Maharashtra State - Question Bank (English), published at transport.maharashtra.gov.in. 427 items, three options each, with sign images.
- Transport Department, Government of Telangana - LLR Question Bank in three English PDFs: Road Signs (94), Rules of Road Regulations (159), General Driving Principles (159). Four options each. Andhra Pradesh publishes the same bank at aptransport.org, whose pages block automated retrieval.
- Rules of the Road Regulations, 1989, made under Section 118 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988.
- Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 as amended by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 2019.
- MoRTH speed limit notification dated 6 April 2018, and the Compensation to Victims of Hit and Run Motor Accidents Scheme, 2022.

- Sarathi / Parivahan Sewa portal, for test format and the state-wise LLTEST question bank reports. The Rajasthan Transport Department and Kerala MVD both publish banks whose pages block automated retrieval; they are profiled but not extracted.

What this edition does not claim

- Nothing here is invented. Every item is either present in one of the three extracted official banks or derived directly from a statute, regulation or central notification.
- Wording has been normalised into plain English so that one entry covers the variants used in different states. Where states key different answers rather than merely different wording, the difference is recorded in Part B.
- Sign questions describe the sign in words, because the real test shows an image with no descriptive text and images cannot be reproduced here.
- For the 32 states and union territories that do not publish a bank, the profile gives the format and speed schedule but no state-specific questions, because none are published. Treat the format figures as indicative and confirm them on your own Sarathi page.

Part B — Cross-state conflict register

These are the points where the official banks genuinely disagree with one another, or where a bank still keys a figure that the law has since changed. In the test, answer according to the bank published by your own RTO.

Point	What differs
U-turn at a signal-controlled junction (Q123)	Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Maharashtra key: wait for the green light. Delhi keys: make the turn if a police officer is at the junction. Answer according to your own state's bank.
Ambulance emergency number (Q274 and Q417)	Telangana and Andhra Pradesh key 108. Maharashtra keys 102. Both are live ambulance numbers; 112 is the unified national emergency number.
Who may supervise a learner (Q309 and Q410)	Maharashtra keys: an approved driving instructor. Telangana and Andhra Pradesh key: any permanent licence holder able to control the vehicle in an emergency.
One time tax on a new car (Q306)	Delhi keys 15 years. Maharashtra keys: until the registration of the vehicle is cancelled.
Maximum speed of a light motor vehicle (Q166)	Delhi keys 60 km/h. Maharashtra sets no default limit for private cars and keys 'no limit'. This reflects a real difference between the two state schedules, not an error.
Drunken driving penalty (Q310)	The Delhi and Maharashtra banks still key the pre-2019 figure of six months or Rs 2,000. The Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 2019 raised it to Rs 10,000 and/or six months from 1 September 2019.
Hit and run compensation (Q402 and Q403)	The Maharashtra bank keys the Solatium Scheme, 1989 figures of Rs 25,000 for death and Rs 12,500 for grievous hurt. The Compensation to Victims of Hit and Run Motor Accidents Scheme, 2022 raised these to Rs 2,00,000 and Rs 50,000 from 1 April 2022.
Annual road casualties	The Maharashtra bank keys about 1,35,000 deaths a year. MoRTH's Road Accidents in India report for 2023 puts the figure at about 1,72,890.
Number of options per question	Delhi and Maharashtra present three options. Telangana and Andhra Pradesh present four. The master bank below is normalised to four wherever the source supplied four.

A question can appear in more than one state's bank, so the state columns add up to more than the total.

Part C — Master question bank
